

You have been Boobie Trapped!

The group named below is partnering with ePinkbras to raise funds not only for their group but to support breast cancer research

Place your gently used bras in the bag. Then hang the bag on someone else's door, preferably without them knowing who did it. That's the fun of Boobie Trapping. When the bag is full contact the person above for pick up.

Go to the ePinkbras.com website and download the pink ribbon pdf shown here. Affix to door or window to show you have been Boobie Trapped. This will show your participation and support. It will also keep you from being Boobie Trapped a second time.

If for any reason you can not participate, not a problem. Just put the bag and notice on someone else's door or contact organizer indicated on the front.

*For Each gently used bra collected, Epinkbras.com will donate funds to the stated group. Gently used condition means free from rips, stains, damage and having an identifiable tag which includes original brand and size. Credit will not be given for sports bras or junior bras. A portion of the bras will be donated to homeless and battered women shelters. For further visit ePinkbras.com
